GSG PURCHASES J. HAROLD DISTRIBUTORS, INC.

DALLAS, TX, September 18, 2007 — GSG, formerly Graphic Solutions Group, Inc., a leading supplier to the sign, digital imaging, and screen printing industries, has acquired J. Harold Distributors Inc. (JHD), and threadetc.com, an embroidery and equipment and supply distributor located in Richardson, Texas.

According to the company, the purchase will enable GSG to offer its customers the same world-class embroidery supplies and equipment that JHD/threadetc.com has long provided, as well as offer JHD's customers the exceptional product selection, reliable delivery and superior customer service on which GSG has built its reputation.

"J. Harold Distributors has an innovative history," stated Mark Granberry, President of GSG. "They've developed an outstanding line of products that are becoming increasingly important to our customers. Joining with a quality organization like JHD was the best way for us to be able to provide these products to our customers, along with the experience and knowledge about the products. GSG is committed to the imprinted sportswear industry and we're very excited about the possibilities inherent in our two companies coming together."
